

A sophisticated tool for real estate operations, that saves time and reduces E&O risk.

You get a turn-key transaction management solution

Today, real estate transaction coordinators touch as many as 300 pieces of paper four to five times while shepherding a single property from contract to close. The process is complicated and any mistake along the way can put your company at risk.

Our team has hands-on experience in transaction management as coordinators, trainers and managers. We can help you save time and manage risk without changing the way you do business.

Your transaction coordinators get the help they need.

TransactionPoint is a software solution that helps transaction coordinators streamline and automate their workflow. We're ready to work with your coordinators to custom tailor TransactionPoint to support your business practices.

We will provide consulting, configuration and onsite training. Long term, we will be available to answer any questions and provide telephone support.

Help your agents do what they do best

TransactionPoint gives each coordinator a standard list of tasks, automatic reminders, streamlined ordering, online document storage and more. It gives agents and their clients personalized views into the closing process. It frees agents to spend more time getting listings and making sales.

In short, TransactionPoint increases efficiency and accuracy while reducing the risk of errors.

Why should you choose TransactionPoint?

We know you have many options. That's why we're working hard to make sure TransactionPoint is the best transaction management solution for real estate companies like yours. With support from the transaction management services team, you will be up and running in no time.

What does it take to get started?

Act now. Your agents will have more time to show houses and make sales, and you will substantially reduce the risk of transaction management errors.

Call us today at 866-847-9907. Let us show you how simple transaction management can be.

TransactionPoint is a powerful tool for real estate companies

- Easy to learn, easy to use
- Integrates with MLS systems
- Works with contact and back-office systems
- Secure electronic document archive

Brokers save time and manage risk with TransactionPoint™

- Broker-defined checklist guides transaction coordinators.
- Communication/activities log is time-stamped, cannot be edited.
- Electronic documents are permanently archived.
- You decide who can access each type of document online.
- One-click order processing.
- MLS connection saves time when setting up new transactions.
- Pipeline reports can be filtered by company, branch or agent.
- Clients get auto-reminders, track their closing process online.
- Agents have more time to show houses, make sales.
- Works with WinForms, ZipForm®, Lone Wolf and Broker Back Office.™

